Join Larry Glover for a reflective, provocative and inspiring gentle hike among the Aspens. We'll interweave a poetic tapestry of ecology, biology, resiliency science and mythology with a dash of quantum physics for spice.

The Aspen grove and tree, as the world's largest known individual life form, offers us a primeval and imaginative window into our own deep identity and nature, and into a dynamic vision of a world of thrive-ability. As medicine for our time, aspens reveal the dimensional nature of the Self. They invite us into the vigorous experience and knowledge of our wholeness; this is a radical affirmation of the heart of resiliency. It is the moist intimacy of relational intelligence, of existential courage and of our Oneness in celebration of diversity.
