

An Invitation from Lead Feather and The Wild Resiliency Institute—Join us for a Wholehearted Adventure of Deep Renewal

Soul Renewal Wilderness Retreat

September 16-20, 2015 — Santa Fe, NM

*“Tell me, what is it you plan to do with your one wild and precious life?”
— Mary Oliver*

How is your joy meter these days? Are you feeling wholeheartedly engaged with purpose and meaning in your life? Are your personal relationships, professional life and other commitments nourishing you as fully as you desire? Are your body and soul holding up to the pressures and demands daily living imposes?

Imagine what might shift if you claimed the time and space to reconnect to your soul, recharge your spirit and vitalize your choices and priorities in life? We invite you to give yourself the gift of four days of renewal and reflection in the enchanting natural beauty of Northern New Mexico.

“The Soul Renewal Journey was a valuable tool in bringing confidence to all aspects of my life. This experience not only overcame my fear of spending 24 hours alone in the wilderness, but also transferred to other aspects of my life where fear was blocking progress.” — 2013 Participant

Together, we will intentionally co-create a sacred space to inspire your soul and spirit. You'll explore through both group and individual experience how to sustainably nourish your innate "spirit of resiliency." We will also look to both Indigenous ceremony and Mother Nature to guide and deepen our experience. Time together, spent hiking and exploring the ecology of our environment, will sharpen your outdoor skills and foster knowing nature as a teacher and portal into your being.

The heart of the journey is an optional 24-48 hours of alone time at a particular site, and level-of-challenge, of your choosing—close by our base camp or further away.

This is a unique personal space for the reflection, visioning or strategic work that can further lead to the fulfillment of your gifts into the world. You will be professionally supported as your hosts "hold space" during your solo experience for safety and wellbeing, teaching beforehand the camping skills required as well as providing optional structured exercises for your explorations into life.

Wednesday

We'll share dinner at a restaurant to plan, discuss logistics and answer questions. This dinner is included in the pricing.

Thursday

Depart from Santa Fe in the morning, set up base camp and enjoy an eco-hike to get settled into our new home for the retreat. First day ends with an evening talking circle.

Friday

Select your own solo spot, set up your personal campsite and begin your solo.

Saturday

Return to basecamp for a hike and talking circle to reconnect, share and process our experiences.

Sunday

Personal time and a closing ceremony — Head back to Santa Fe, arriving by 1pm in time for the shuttle to ABQ for any late afternoon flights.
